DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 17, and 18 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1, 17, and 18 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1, 17, and 18 lines 2-4 recites “determining at least one media capability associated with each of said plurality of communication devices” then lines 12-13 recites “wherein the aggregated view ...associated with the identity does not provide an indication of said plurality of communication devices associated with the identity.” which is unclear and confusing. These two limitations in the claim contradict each other which makes the claim indefinite. It is noted that applicant's specification on page 12 lines 17-19 states that ‘each media capability is determined for the devices’ and therefore an indication of a device is associated with the media capability aggregated view.

Applicant states Fig. 4-7 supports these limitations, however, it is noted that Fig. 4-7 shows icons of ‘phone calls’ which indicates a telephony device associated with the identity. Page 15 lines 25-26 of applicant’s specification also states ‘the user interface 240 indicates that Brian cannot be contacted by telephone’. Therefore, It is understood that the icon of ‘phone calls’ indicates a telephone which makes this limitation and claims indefinite.

Appropriate clarification and/or correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-3, 5-11, and 17-18 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Becker et al., Patent #6,981,223.

Regarding claims 1, 17, and 18, Becker teaches a system, method, and article of manufacture comprising:
a processor, a communication port coupled to said processor and adapted to communicate with at least one device, and a storage device coupled to said processor and storing instructions adapted to be executed by said processor(Fig.15-16) to:

determine a plurality of communication devices associated with an identity and determine at least one media capability associated with each of said plurality of communication devices
(Fig.15 and col.20 line 30-col.21 line 6; Lou's plurality of communication devices shows media capability for each-fax for faxing, mailbox for emailing, etc);

determine an availability state for each of said at least one media capability associated with each of said plurality of communication devices, where the availability state for each of said at least one media capability provides an indication of the availability for each of said at least one specific media capability(Fig.15 and col.20 line 30-col.21 line 6; shows availability state of media capability(phone, etc.); and

provide, via a user interface, an aggregated view of data indicative of said the availability states for each of said at least one media capability associated with the identity, wherein the aggregated view of the availability states for each of said at least one media capability associated with the identity does not provide an indication of said plurality of communication devices associated with the identity via the user interface(Fig.15 and col.20 line 30-col.21 line 6; Becker does not provide an indication of said plurality of communication devices; e.g. his keyboard is associated with a single computer device).

Regarding claim 2, Becker teaches the method of claim 1, further comprising the step of: receiving a request for information regarding media channel availability for said identity(Fig.15 and col.20 line 30-col.21 line 6).

Regarding claim 3, Becker teaches the method of claim 1, further comprising the step of: receiving a request for information regarding media channel availability for said device(Fig.15 and col.20 line 30-col.21 line 6).

Regarding claim 5, Becker teaches the method of claim 1, wherein said providing of said aggregated view of data indicative of said availability states further provides information identifying said device(Fig.15 and col.20 line 30-col.21 line 6).

Regarding claim 6, Becker teaches the method of claim 1, wherein said providing of said aggregated view of data indicative of said availability states further provides information identifying said identity(Fig.15 and col.20 line 30-col.21 line 6).

Regarding claim 7, Becker teaches the method of claim 1, wherein said providing of said aggregated view of data indicative of said availability information further provides information identifying an identity context associated with said identity(Fig.15 and col.20 line 30-col.21 line 6).

Regarding claim 8, Becker teaches the method of claim 1, further comprising the step of: determining a device context for said device (Fig.15 and col.20 line 30-col.21 line 6).

Regarding claim 9, Becker teaches the method of claim 1, further comprising the step of: determining a rule governing availability of said media channel (Fig.15 and col.20 line 30-col.21 line 6).

Regarding claim 10, Becker teaches the method of claim 1, further comprising the step of: determining a rule that governs how availability of said media channel is to be determined(Fig.15 and col.20 line 30-col.21 line 6).

Regarding claim 11, Becker teaches the method of claim 1, further comprising the step of: determining an identity context for said identity(Fig.15, col.20 line 30-col.21 line 6).

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
